

Mayor - Laurie Miller

Council History

Serving first term as Mayor of Bowden.

Background

Mayor Laurie Miller has been connected to Bowden since the 1980s through lifelong friends and minor hockey and has proudly called the community home since 2017.

With a wide and varied employment background, Mayor Miller brings adaptability, strong analytical skills, and a commitment to thoughtful, practical leadership. Her focus is on open communication, transparency in local government, and ensuring that decisions made at the council table reflect the long-term interests of Bowden residents.

Laurie is an active volunteer with the Bowden Friendship Club (Event Centre) and looks forward to expanding her involvement with other community groups — both in her role as Mayor and as a resident who deeply values local connection and volunteerism.

She is passionate about fostering steady, balanced growth for Bowden — supporting both housing diversity and economic opportunity while maintaining the small-town character that makes the community unique.

Although new to elected office, Mayor Miller's approach is grounded in listening, learning, and working collaboratively with council, administration, and residents to build on Bowden's strengths and create a sustainable, welcoming future for all.

Outside of her mayoral duties, Laurie enjoys connecting with residents and spending time with family and friends.
